Space City Planner

You and Jordan have been commissioned by the president to make plans for a city in space. Will it be enclosed in a giant bubble? Will each person have a special suit to wear? How will you travel? What types of structures will there be? What activities will you have for kids? Will you be able to travel back to Earth? What types of food will be available? Write a short story about the city you will design. Use the back of this page, if needed.
